Your Students Can Perform at Titanic!

"...very well done! A great balance of history and interaction! The Children are still talking about it."
— Charlotte Children's Choir

Our interactive museums provide performance platforms that help broaden the horizons of all music students. Throughout the year, for example, we showcase the talents of young musicians in live performances staged at the bow of the ship.

These unique musical moments outside the classroom provide students opportunities for musical and personal growth, while the Titanic stories inside both locations offer life-changing lessons for emotional and spiritual growth.
